Scott D. Boden, MD

Chief Strategy Officer

Emory Healthcare and Woodruff Health Sciences Center

Professor and Chair, Department of Orthopaedics

Emory University School of Medicine

Dr. Boden joined Emory in 1992 as an Orthopaedic spine surgeon and clinician scientist starting both a translational and clinical research program. Dr. Boden received his B.A. and M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania and completed an Orthopaedic Surgery Residency at The George Washington University Medical Center, followed by a Spine Fellowship at Case Western Reserve University Hospitals.

Dr. Boden is currently a tenured Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at the Emory University School of Medicine and serves as the Chief Strategy Officer for the Healthcare System and The Woodruff Health Science Center as well as Chair of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, Director of the Emory Orthopaedics & Spine Center. He has previously served as the first Chief Medical Officer/Chief Quality Officer (CMO/CQO) of The Emory University Orthopaedics & Spine Hospital, and as Vice President of Business Innovation and Strategic Partnership Development for Emory Healthcare.

As Chairman of the Board of Managers of The Emory Healthcare Network, he also is engaged with oversight of Emory's clinically integrated network of over 3400 employed and community physicians and has an interest in population health and physician performance/variability data. As the Chief Strategy Officer at Emory Healthcare, he is responsible for facilitating the strategic plan across the enterprise and representing Emory Healthcare in a variety of business development capacities including hospital mergers/acquisitions, real estate development, corporate strategic partnerships, joint ventures, state-wide network strategy, and technology innovation opportunities. The CSO Office also tightly coordinates strategic planning, business development, marketing, and enterprise-wide strategic project implementation. Dr. Boden has been responsible for developing and maintaining Emory's long-term relationships with the Atlanta professional sports teams including the Falcons (NFL), Hawks (NBA), Braves (MLB), Dream (WNBA). In addition, in this role he provides oversight to the Emory Healthcare Innovation Hub.
